

Airport Authority Continues To Search For $17,000

WHAT'S happening to the proposed Pocono Mountains Airport? A number of people, including Monroe County Commissioners, have tried to find the answer to that question. But the only answer they've had so far is that the Mount Pocono Airport Authority "needs more money."

Yesterday Commissioners read a letter from R. LeRoy Dengler, Airport Authority chairman. It was the same old story.

Dengler said that the Authority feels that neither Stroudsburg nor East Stroudsburg will go along with the airport and contribute funds toward its construction.

Since neither of the county's two major boroughs appear inclined to go along, Dengler said, it seems unlikely that Stroud

Township or any other township will do so.

Therefore, Dengler said, if the county would see fit to contribute the $17,000 the Authority says it needs, "we can have work started within 11 days afterward."

Commission Chairman John R. Leseine said that, while the county is "thoroughly in agreement with the need for an airport and perfectly willing to support it—as we have already done in the $30,000 we have given the Authority," he, personally, did not like the feeling that the Authority is "trying to pass the buck back to the county."

Just to keep the record straight, Leseine said, he thought the people of Monroe County should be reminded that the county had gone along with the airport to the tune of $30,000 payable at $5,000 yearly installments over a period of 10 years.

This $30,000 was given by the county nearly two years ago when the Authority had said that it could build the airport for only an estimated $300,000. Now the Authority says it needs an additional $100,000.

Although the Authority advertised for, received and studied bids for initial construction at the airport near Mount Pocono, it still has never awarded a contract to the low bidder. That bid was close to the $300,000 original-cost estimate. It did not include the cost of installing lighting at the field. When the Authority approached Commissioners with an appeal for extra funds, County Commissioner Willard Quick noted, pointedly, that "the last time you were here we were told this (the $30,000) was absolutely all you would need to ask for."

Since then—and during the repeated requests for more funds—Commissioners have told the Authority that "just as soon as you break ground on the project, we have some money waiting for you." The amount of money—out of the $30,000 committed by the county before—now waiting is $15,000, Commissioners said yesterday.

More recently, Commissioners asked the Authority to contact all municipalities in the county and give them an opportunity to participate in the project. The Authority wrote letters to townships and boroughs asking for money.

None of the government groups has committed itself to taking part in the airport program, however. It was for this reason, Dengler said, that the Authority is returning to Commissioners for further aid.

New Pressure On Heavier Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower talked over the economic situation with his advisers again yesterday, after new pressure developed for tax cuts and heavier spending.

This pressure was brought by AFL-CIO leaders who reported they told Eisenhower the recession is growing worse, and to wait for improvement is not the cure.

The unionists said their White House visit was friendly, but there was no word of any new actions in the making.

Raise Promised

In a major antirecession announcement, the Defense Department promised to raise to 10 billion dollars the amount of job-providing contracts it will place during the first six months of the year.

This is four billions more than were placed in the last six months of 1957.

An encouraging note was provided by the Federal Reserve Board in a report saying department store sales across the country last week were seven per cent higher than during the similar week of 1957.

Of the 12 Federal Reserve Districts only one—Kansas City—showed a decline and the drop there was only one per cent.

Still another bright note came from the federal housing administration.

It said applications for government-insured loans on new houses poured in last month at a rate 70 per cent higher than in February 1957. The applications reflected a willingness to spend and foreshadowed an increase in residential construction.

Eisenhower's meeting with his economists, second in two days, lasted an hour and a quarter. Little was divulged of what went on, but it was separately disclosed that Eisenhower plans a public discussion of the situation next Tuesday.

Audience

His immediate audience here for a national Republican conference, Eisenhower also has scheduled a look-at-the-full-picture tax discussion Tuesday with GOP congressional leaders.

fense Department's plans to step up its rate of placing contracts was made by Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who also told reporters something of what went on at the economic conference.

Speaking of the contract-letting, Hagerty said:

"This is another way the economy can be helped."

Hagerty described the economic meeting as simply "a continuation of talks the President had yesterday (Wednesday) with about the same group."

Hagerty said the discussion dealt mainly with Eisenhower's antirecession proposal for extension of the duration of unemployment insurance benefits. That program will be sent to Congress for action by early next week.

State Garment Workers Seek Election

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Garment Manufacturers Assn. and its 300 member plants shut down by a strike yesterday sought a bargaining election "to determine what union represents its employees."

Industry members of the PGMA, which produces hedge manufacturing women's and children's wear, say they employ some 20,000 workers.

The PGMA petitioned the National Labor Relations Board to approve an appropriate bargaining unit "so all negotiations can be on an association-wide basis."

The House subcommittee also heard a denial of testimony to the effect that Col. George Gordon Moore, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's brother-in-law, was supposed to have "engineered" the TV award to the National Airlines subsidiary.

The TV license, valued at several million dollars, was given to a National Airlines subsidiary. There were three other applicants.

The Feb. 14 and 15 storm dumped 23.7 inches on the Stroudsburgs and as much as 36 inches in other areas.

Highways Slippery

State Police at all area barracks reported highways, particularly in the higher sectors, were slippery.

There were three and one-half inches on the ground at Newfoundland.

Clark Votes With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's Democratic Sen. Clark cast his vote with the majority in the 50-54 count by which the Senate yesterday passed a bill to freeze government price supports and acreage allotments for major farm crops at 1957 levels.

His Republican colleague, Sen. Martin, voted against the bill.

New Names Enter Probe Of FCC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission asked court permission yesterday to second-guess itself on a Miami TV case. Meantime, new testimony in a House influence probe churned up such different names as House Republican Leader Joe Martin and the gangster "Little Augie."

The FCC move came more than a week after Richard A. Mack resigned from the commission in the wake of charges he was under the financial influence of a lawyer who went to bat for National Airlines when the case was before the FCC.

The FCC means that it is carried out by one or more teachers in the school system. They do this, generally, in addition to an already-solid class and work load.

Yesterday, Frank W. Miller, a radio-TV-advertising man, told the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight he called on Rep. Martin "to ask him how things were going and things like that" in FCC's consideration of the Channel 10 case.

Miller said he was acting for A. Frank Katzenbach, who lost the license fight to National Airlines.

Apparently, Katzenbach didn't give him much help. At least, Miller said he never heard from the Massachusetts Republican again, even though he told Katzenbach in a telegram, the day he called on Martin: "Joe is going right down the line for us."

Katzenbach paid a return visit to the witness stand yesterday and indignantly denied charges, which he attributed to his opponents in the TV fight, that he has associated with mobsters and allowed his Miami radio station, WKAT, to be used in behalf of gambling on horse races.

Hagerty declined comment when asked whether the administration has formally abandoned all hope for a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The budget Eisenhower sent to Congress in January called for spending $73,900,000,000, and for a surplus of 500 million dollars in excess of expenditures.

Subsequent plans for increases in defense spending and for antirecession programs appear to have ruled out any possibility of a balanced budget, and raised the prospect—even without a tax cut—of deficit spending.

The labor leaders said that during their morning visit they gave Eisenhower their reasons for continuing that tax cuts and expanded public works spending are imperatively needed.

Hagerty denied, among other things, he was acquainted with a gangland figure known as "Little Augie."

A former mayor of Miami Beach, and now president of the Greater Miami Crime Commission, Katzenbach said he assumed the "Little Augie" was Augie Pifano, one of various underworld figures known by that nickname.

"I don't associate with people like that," Katzenbach told a reporter later. He said he didn't remember seeing Pisano more than once. And he accused National Airlines officials of trying to link him with hoodlums on the theory: "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

The House subcommittee also heard a denial of testimony to the effect that Col. George Gordon Moore, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's brother-in-law, was supposed to have "engineered" the TV award to the National Airlines subsidiary.

The TV license, valued at several million dollars, was given to a National Airlines subsidiary. There were three other applicants.

Additional Funds For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Roads subcommittee Thursday night approved a bill making available an additional one and one-half billion dollars in federal funds this year to speed up highway construction.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), subcommittee chairman and principal author of the measure, predicted it would pass the Senate next week.

Pechan Joins Stassen Camp

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—State Sen. Albert Pechan yesterday became the first announced candidate to join Harold A. Stassen's battle against the state Republican organization for nomination as GOP candidate for governor.

Stassen confirmed that Pechan will be a candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs on his ticket. Stassen, independent candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, said he expected to file his ticket in Harrisburg today, three days before the filing deadline for the May primary election.

He had no comment on reports Frank G. Hilton of Reading would seek nomination as Lieutenant Governor on his slate.

Children To Help Children

CHILDREN will help other less fortunate children beginning Monday in East Stroudsburg Elementary Schools.

The days from March 17 through 21 have been set aside for "Bundle Days" to help the nationwide "Save the Children Federation" clothing drive.

School principal John T. Lambert said yesterday: "Taking part in the collection of warm, suitable clothing for those less well-off than ourselves, the children in our school urge parents and neighbors to bundle up their wearing apparel so that some child may bring it to school."

Clothing no longer needed can become a "new" wardrobe to children in underprivileged areas, Lambert noted.

Post Office To Launch Experiment

WASHINGTON — Project Turnkey, a Post Office Department experiment in postal handling without the touch of human hands, is scheduled to get underway shortly. A private company will handle the assignment.

The firm will design and build a pilot post office and install in it the most ultra-modern mail handling equipment of the company's design.

The equipment and building will be leased to the government and the work will be done by postal workers.

The plan is the latest move in the department's efforts to handle an ever increasing and costlier volume of mail through research and engineering.

Private Contractor

The private contractor will retain ownership of the test building and the land on which it is built.

Formerly, the government has built its own post offices or bought buildings on the installment plan with the aid of private financing.

The buildings have been equipped with the machinery of various manufacturers. The goal of fully automatic operation under this system has remained distant.

The company selected for the new experiment is Intalex Systems, Inc., a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Co. No contract has been signed, but talks with the firm have been underway since December.

The pilot post office is expected to be in operation in about two and one-half years.

Four cities are being studied as pioneers of the plan.

Commissioners Favor Area Service For Family Counseling

Quick Seeks Support By Community

MONROE County Commissioner Willard Quick yesterday urged community support for a family counseling service.

Quick made his point during a discussion of Children's Aid Society and its need for a full-time social worker as executive director.

Children's Aid Society places children from broken families in foster homes. A certain percentage of its work is done for the County and through the Commissioners' office.

Talking with Miss Marjorie Smith, Department of Public Assistance field worker, during a summary of DPA work in the county and needs for the service in the future, Quick said:

Something Needed
"As far as dealing with these families is concerned, we need something that will help them before they decide to throw the whole thing up. We need to be able to help the family before the breakup actually happens."

"There are a lot of cases like this. We know about them. And a lot of times we can see them coming."

"There's a lot of homes where a loaf of bread and a little counsel — a little talk — will stave off the flame before it starts to burn."

Miss Smith noted that CAS now has 69 children from 29 families in care. The agency does not now have a social worker in its office.

Mrs. Donald Gilpin, CAS board president, said last night, however, that Children's Aid of Pennsylvania had informed her through its central Philadelphia office that a prospective worker for the local agency has been found. Mrs. Gilpin said the worker will come to Stroudsburg next week for an interview.

Yesterday morning's discussion at County Commissioners' meeting brought support for family service, also, from Commission chairman John R. Lesoine.

Lesoine said that, in the past, workers had found that budgeting is one of the biggest problems in family conditions approaching a breakup. In one case, he said, it was found that the family's time payments left only $2 per week with which to buy food.

Proper counseling by a qualified and dedicated social worker could prevent the breakdown of many family relationships, Lesoine said. Quick said further that such work, if carried out properly, saves considerable amounts of money for the county and other governmental bodies through preventing such extreme needs as foster home placement or institutionalization.

The need for family counseling has been repeatedly emphasized during recent years by other social and welfare agencies in the county.

Four years ago a special study of Monroe County welfare needs was carried out by the Social Planning Committee of the Community Chest.

That survey showed a strong need for family counseling as an integral part of welfare work locally. Childrens Aid Society was considered the logical agency to handle such work if a special agency could not be set up in the community.

Childrens Aid has done a great deal of family counseling. Under the office and casework direction of Mrs. Jean Albert the agency worked with several families to keep the family unit together.

Preserving the family unit is one of the basic aims of the agency.

Yesterday's statement from commissioners was the first public indication given by them that they look kindly upon creation of such counseling for homes in the area.

Stroud Township Firemen Featuring Contest To Name Convention Beauty Queen

THE STROUD Township Volunteer Fire Department last night announced it will choose a beauty queen to compete in the pageant to be held in connection with the Four-County Firemen's Convention in East Stroudsburg in June.

Winner of the township contest will represent the department in the "Fire Fighters Festival" competition. She will be crowned at a departmental dance on April 11 at the East Stroudsburg Elks Club.

Prizes for the winner and runnersup will be announced later.

Rules for the Stroud Township contest, the same as for the convention competition, are:

Contestants must be at least 18 but not more than 25 years of age and must reside in the area served by her sponsor.

Girls with professional modeling experience may not compete. Judging will be on personality, poise and beauty of face and figure, not talent.

A five by seven inch black and white glossy photo of the contestant shall accompany each entry and cannot be returned.

Girls under 21 years of age and unmarried must submit written consent of their parents.

An entry blank appears at the end of this story. The entry should be mailed to LeRoy B. Smith, Box 74, Stroudsburg, RD 2.

Support Payments Under Study

COUNTY Commissioners said yesterday they will consult with President Judge Fred W. Davis to work out methods to improve collection of support funds for court-committed children now in the care of the County.

Actually, such collections appear to be almost non-existent. Although the father in such cases is ordered to pay a certain amount for the partial support of his child or children, payments are generally either not made or are abnormally slow in coming in.

No method of enforcing the orders has been found until now. But with the employment of Henry McCool as county probation officer on a full-time basis, Commissioners feel that the county is now in a position to enforce support orders.

Program Advice

Solicitor L. A. Achterman told commissioners yesterday that the court should be consulted and "some sort of program" worked out for proper collection. McCool comes under the jurisdiction of the court, but his salary is paid by the county.

In other cases the court and the county have worked closely together for the mutual benefit of both, Achterman said.

"I see no reason that a system cannot be arranged and I'm sure the court will be happy to work with you in helping to make sure that payments come in," Achterman said.

AT ST. PATRICK'S Day dance will be held in the Penn-Stroud Hotel from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Monday.

It is being sponsored by the Holy Name and Altar and Rosary Societies of St. Matthew's Church. Music will be furnished by Willis Brown and his orchestra.

Novelty dances and a door prize will be featured. Tickets may be secured at the door.

Victor Borge Show Ready

VICTOR BORGE will present his one-man show, "Comedy in Music," next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Catholic Youth Center, Scranton. All seats are reserved.

Steady improvement in the condition of William Totten and other ailing members was reported.

Borge is the only performer in show business today who plays for two and one-half hours alone on stage without a supporting cast, orchestra and other entertainers. He presents each show unaided, except for his concert grand piano, humor and spontaneity.

Food Complaints

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (P) — Vassar's undergraduate newspaper complained loudly Tuesday about the food served 1,600 girl students. But the college president said it was just the season of the year, and not the lack of seasoning in the menu, that stirred the rumpus.

Rev. Monk stated that the Quarterly conference will be on April 27 at the Delaware Water Gap Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bert Transue was chosen to place the flowers in the church for Easter Sunday. The flowers for the altar vases for the communion on Holy Thursday will be placed there by the Official Board.

Mrs. Fred Gardner was elected chairman of the flower committee.

Small markers are given the same care and attention as the largest monument.

Local Distribution Of Surplus Food Increases

THE CASELOAD for surplus foods distributed by the Monroe County Commission office has risen nearly 600 during the past two months.

H. Ray Saunders, chief commission clerk who handles distribution of the surplus foods, said yesterday that a total of 1,469 persons received the surplus Tuesday and Wednesday on regular distribution days.

The total number of persons receiving surplus has nearly doubled since it went into service in September, 1956. At that time there were only about 800 regularly receiving food.

Saunders said the total number of persons getting the surplus each month "fluctuates." But it has been gradually rising and, during the two months since the first of the year, has taken a sharp jump.

Total Rehabilitation Goal Of Easter Seal Campaign

EMPHASIS ON development of total rehabilitation of the crippled is a major trend of the service program of the Monroe County Society of Crippled Children and Adults, said Nelson Westbrook, Monroe County Easter Seal chairman, last night.

He pointed out:

"Because great advances in medicine and the allied professions have made it possible to work wonders in overcoming severe handicaps, and thus put new tools and new techniques into our hands, major emphasis is now being placed on total rehabilitation of the crippled adult."

Increasing Number

"Furthermore, there is an ever increasing number of persons needing help, since thousands now survive crippling illnesses and accidents that formerly would have been fatal. The challenge which the Easter Seal societies now must strive to meet is to help rehabilitate as many of these people as possible, utilizing all of the resources at our command."

In 1957 a total of 26,114 crippled adults received rehabilitation services from the 1,655 Easter Seal affiliates of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in each of the 48 states, District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. These affiliates, including the one in Monroe County maintain such vital services toward rehabilitation of the handicapped adults as follows:

Rehabilitation centers, sheltered workshops, diagnostic and evaluation clinics, itinerant services and therapy for the home-bound, equipment loan pools, home employment programs, craft and outlet services, employment placement services and vocational guidance and counseling services.

Highways Beautiful

Civic and resort groups throughout the Poconos are aware of the area's scenic beauty as one of its chief attractions for the vacation trade.

There will be little or no opposition here, then, to the remarks made Wednesday by Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens in a talk before the Pennsylvania Roadside Council.

In fact, local people should find lots of comfort in his statement that today's highways can be designed and built in such a way as to preserve, and in many ways enhance, the beauty of adjacent areas.

Mr. Stevens explained that the control access adopted as a standard on the 41,000-mile national system of interstate highways will revolutionize our living habits. This is a step forward, he said, to safeguarding America's roadsides from defacement by encroachment upon the highway right-of-way.

In Pennsylvania's 1,545 miles of interstate highways, he says full control will reduce impediments to travel from residential and commercial developments; enable the department to incorporate designs and locations plans for roads, and control billboard advertising.

Secretary Stevens outlined three broad objectives being given consideration in planning the highway system. He listed them as:

A complete survey in hard facts relating to the adequacy of the present system and justification of new roads;

The relation of highways to communities and best land use integrating the system as a part of the total community picture, and

Considering the highway system as it will affect the economic growth of communities, regions and the state as a whole.

Our civic-minded citizens will applaud his efforts to build beauty into the new highway system. Anything we can do to encourage right-of-way protection to insure safe and pleasant motoring will pay rich dividends in the years to come.

Ostrich Mentality

Has it been forgotten that the House of Representatives eight months ago unanimously passed a sternly worded resolution on the 450 unaccounted-for American servicemen who were victims of the Chinese Communist aggressors in Korea?

That resolution demanded that a "return or satisfactory accounting" for these POW's be made "a primary objective of the foreign policy of the United States." This is timely now because Red China again is seeking an approach to U.S. recognition by offering to withdraw her forces from North Korea.

The Committee of One Million (against the admission of Communist China to the United Nations) re-alerted the American public on Peiping's appeasement moves. Its steering committee issued a statement reminding us that to this day Red China has refused any word on those 450 Americans or the

Adams' New Gesture

Washington, March 13 — House investigators of the FCC are in a quandary.

They don't know whether to admire the boldness or to blast the temerity of S. Sherman Adams.

At the very time the Assistant to the President is under bristling attack on charges of meddling in the affairs of the regulatory agencies, the House probbers have informed Adams is now busily doing exactly that in a big telephone rate case pending before the FCC.

According to evidence in the investigators' hands, Adams is secretly trying to block a demand by General Services Administrator Franklin Floete for a 25 percent cut in rates on the government's "private line service."

Principal target of this rate-slashing case is American Telephone & Telegraph Co. It recently announced record-high earnings of $686,057,956 in 1957.

As disclosed in this column on Feb. 24, estimator immediately saving from the reduction sought by Floete would be $6,250,000—an annual cost to the government for this type of phone service of $25,000,000.

Also involved is a possible $40,000,000-a-year saving on SAGE, the multi-billion-dollar early warning system that A. T. & T. is developing for the Air Force. Estimated annual tolls on this far-flung electronic defense network, when it attains full operation in five years, are $160,000,000.

The probbers' evidence concerning Adams' activities in this matter include two striking documents.

One is a letter sent to Senator Carl Hayden (D., Ariz.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, by Administrator Floete protesting a move to bar him from pushing this rate-cutting case by the extraordinary device of enacting special legislation for that purpose.

The other document is an A. T. & T. memorandum, being circulated among influential members of Congress, sharply criticizing the General Services Administration, and urging adoption of this unusual legislation to curb it.

What They Say.—The House investigators also have been informed that before the appearance of this remarkable legislation, Adams personally sought to induce Floete to drop his demand for a 25 percent cut in government costs for "private line service."

That was firmly refused by

Hidden Report

Who got hurt by the unpublished annual report of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee?

Someone must have, for the report long ago written and made ready has not yet been made available to the public. Many volumes of the hearings have appeared, but not the annual report to Congress. And without an annual report, how can Congress justify voting the Committee funds? What has the Committee done during the past year to justify an additional appropriation?

"One of the matters which the report as originally written contains, according to my information, is a section on the suicide of Dr. Herbert Norman, the Canadian ambassador to Egypt. An American Congressional committee has no function examining a Canadian ambassador, but so it happens that many of Norman's activities concerned Americans and took place in association with Americans. He was on the most intimate terms with many American diplomats, particularly those who have had left wing associations.

He entered upon them in that spirit, but soon discovered that he had again been outfoxed by the White House crowd who had set up the various devices to oppose McCarthy. Apparently Senator Watkins was doing the same kind of "Plizz," appealed Mr. Arnaz, "keep your big mouth shut, the new sponsor wants to announce it." . . . Newest kick among femme teen-agers: Purple lipstick with hose to match. . . . Mrs. Dan Topping is in Mexico divorcing the N. Y. Yankees landlord . . . Josh Logan chucka a puddy for Mitzi Gaynor at Lulu 400 on the night of the "South Pacific" preview. . . .

Norman committed suicide last April in Cairo and an attempt was made by Canada's then Secretary for External Affairs, Lester Pearson, to blame that suicide upon the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

This gave some Senators the jitters and embarrassed the State Department no end. The information at the time, however, was that a Canadian commission was about to be appointed to investigate Norman's conduct.

This gave some Senators the jitters and embarrassed the State Department no end. The information at the time, however, was that a Canadian commission was about to be appointed to investigate Norman's conduct.

Also, in the year 1958, there is no political profit in the work of this committee does not favor disclosures of errors of judgment, say in the handling of the Hungarian revolt; the Democrats do not want historic disclosures, say of the relations between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Communist leader Earl Browder — disclosures which cannot longer be suppressed because the truth discloses itself in other ways.

The Canadians object to disclosures which involve any of their political leaders or their businessmen who operate cartels, whether for newsprint or for whisky, in the United States. Members of Congress, in an election year, dislike controversial reports which might arouse unfavorable public opinion. They like everything to be sweet and safe.

So all-in-all, this Committee has found itself to be politically unpopular and lacking in advantage to its members, who are, after all, only politicians.

The Once Over

There are trout in Broadway and Columbus Circle, New York. They are taking flies at the 1958 New York Outdoor Exposition, and we can't help wondering how a trout feels in the heart of a big city surrounded by thousands of spectators.

The last thing a trout dreams of is giving a New York concert so to speak, and making a New York debut in a hit show. Such a fish is accustomed to the mountain streams and brooks but inside of a few days in New York it feels so sophisticated and fearless, yearning to hide under a steel beam instead of a rock and rest beneath a scenic effect rather than a log. Such a trout, returning to the wilderness, spends the rest of its days taunting other trout with "Get a reputation! Don't forget I played a New York booking."

A 25 percent reduction in telephone grade tariffs would appear to be justified on the company's own figures. During the hearing, it may well develop that certain accounting and allocation adjustments will establish that the company's earnings are actually in excess of the ones shown in its exhibits.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Raps Office-Holder

be done about it?

The employment compensation problem, many are suffering at the present time is surely a problem of the entire community and should be looked into and treated as such. There are people waiting for five checks and have not received them yet. I am waiting for one I signed for three weeks ago.

But aside from the consequences each of us must face without this money, surely the loan companies and the banks, the business concerns who have so many accounts on credit, should help to find out what the hold-up is, for their own benefit as well as ours.

For myself, I have no complaint for our local employment office. Whether or not the fault lies here or in Harrisburg, I do not know. But as for the people working in the office, I have every respect for them and I am sure they are trying to do the best they can in this particular situation.

Still I think there should be someone in this area to voice these opinions where it will do some good and get some of these situations straightened out. Isn't there a lawyer somewhere who could take on this task?

I don't know who Peggy Bancroft is, but I will surely read any article written by her, for she certainly isn't afraid to speak up.

And she does it in a lady-like way that I sure can offend no one, but it does bring to light the fact that too many responsible persons are turning their backs on the problems of the community, and believe me, I'm going to be around and very much interested in each and every person who runs for election again in this community, no matter what office.

And I will search and dig up everything I can to find out how they have helped in all these small ways that are so important to 99% of the people in the Stroudsburgs. And I think I am not going to be alone in this.

Voting is one duty we can all be proud to perform, so let's carry it all the way and make sure those we elect are going to help us in these problems we are facing now, whether it be Mrs. Duecker's home in peril, our employment compensation, excessive speeding on our main streets, support money for children of broken homes (now there's an issue!) or whether or not we feel our schools are doing a good job. How about some help from someone?

Good Evening Ladies!

A Husband Or A Pet

By Ken Duvall

Within the past few weeks, two extremely wealthy women have divorced their husbands because, they claimed, the lazy husbands wouldn't go to work.

These women each have millions, not just healthy bank accounts, but they still expected their husbands to get jobs and punch time clocks.

My heart bleeds for these husbands because it seems obvious to me that they didn't marry these women with the idea in mind of going to work and supporting them. Why should they? I'm sure I would.

In the first place, I'd never wash another dish or push the vacuum cleaner another inch. I'd just sit in my big easy chair and say, "Well, kid, we finally made it! And she'd say, "Up on your dying feet, you lout, and get to your office." I'd go, but I wouldn't.

I'm quite sure that in the unlikely event that certain party inherited a large sum of money, or advanced in her own profession to the point that her income exceeded mine, there would be some changes around here. For one thing, I'd never wash another dish or push the vacuum cleaner another inch. I'd just sit in my big easy chair and say, "Well, kid, we finally made it! And she'd say, "Up on your dying feet, you lout, and get to your office." I'd go, but I wouldn't.

On the other hand, I guess things are better as they are. Not for anything in the world would I miss seeing her pretty brown eyes light up at the sight of my paycheck, the little gurgles of joy as she snatches it and runs off like a puppy with a yarn ball. I'm a husband, not a household pet, and as such I may have to last longer around here.

The first thing I'd do is

would be to talk her into buying me a nice little business, like Toots Shor's place, for example. Then I'd hang my scissors and paste over the cash register, stick around long enough to take in my first dollar bill so I could frame it, and after that I'd just drop in from time to time to clean out the cash drawer and meet my friends. Say, this is beginning to sound pretty good!

Of course, one of these men

Jerry Loyal Companion To Stroudsburg Mailman

FORTUNATE is the man—or the dog—who has work that he loves, a home where he is welcome, and friends of his own choosing.

Jerry, a nine-year-old mongrel (don't let her family hear that) is truly blessed.

She has not only one, but two homes, clamoring for her company. She is the friend of all the children and the dogs in both neighborhoods, and this year she has adopted a new career—one with the U.S. Postal Service.

For the past five months she has made the rounds, both morning and afternoon, day in and day out, with Edgar Hall, Stroudsburg mailman, to their mutual satisfaction. Well, she did miss one morning. That was the Monday morning after the Big Snow.

Jerry was willing enough and waiting, but when she came leaping off the porch to join her friend and co-worker, she landed in snow up over her head and had to scramble back to the porch and safety.

However by afternoon, her family had shoveled a path for her, and she was ready for her rounds.

This new career was no spur-of-the-moment thing, but a matter of mature deliberation. She started out by visiting the Stroudsburg postoffice every day for several weeks, determining the advantages it offered in congenial personnel, pleasant working conditions, and satisfactory pay scale in dog biscuits.

She was not discouraged by the tradition which would seem to eliminate her on the score of both her gender and her genus. Up until now, there have been no female mail carriers. Then, too, there is the traditional antipathy between mailmen and dogs.

Just recently a Post Office regulation was passed, permitting mailmen to bypass delivery in homes where there are vicious dogs.

However, once she had picked her man and his route, there was no stopping her. She reports each morning for work early, and together she and Hall leave the postoffice at 8 a.m.

She waits patiently outside of each business place while he is delivering the mail. The big exception is the Court House where she makes the indoor rounds as well.

In the morning, they cover Lower Main St. and its tributaries returning to the postoffice about 11.

She is rested and ready for the afternoon tour of duty which begins about 2 and includes the business section. By 4 p.m. her day is done and she is ready for home and a well-earned rest.

One of her homes is at 905 Ann St. with the Robert Wilsons. The other is with Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Wilson, 909 Fairview Ave.

When she wants to travel between the two, she sometimes hitches a ride on one of the mail trucks, sort of professional courtesy.

There was a time when the future didn't look so bright for Jerry. That was when she was a puppy—without a name, a home or traceable ancestry.

Given a haven at the SPCA she used her looks, her personality and her pleasant disposition to win the heart of Bob Wilson, then eight years younger.

His heart had recently been broken by the death of the family's pedigree dog at the ripe old dog-age of 17. At home, he kept up his campaign of extolling the beauties and virtues of this dog he'd seen at the SPCA.

His family gave into his pleading right in the middle of the hurricane which marked that year. Even the hurricane.

Jerry's spaniel blood made her welcome the water, even in Winter and she'd swim across to the other bank and stand coaxing the Collie to join her. Unsuccessful in selling the idea, Jerry would swim back and go home with the Collie freezing from her curly hair.

"But didn't that make a mess in your kitchen?", Mrs. Wilson was asked.

"Oh no," came the prompt answer, "I just kept a towel ready to dry her off when she came in. As a matter of fact, I miss her when she isn't here, and I'm tempted to keep her here all the time."

The trouble is that Edgar Hall would miss her, too. He was high in his praise of Jerry as a companion and faithful civil servant.

"She makes the route seem a lot shorter," he admitted happily.

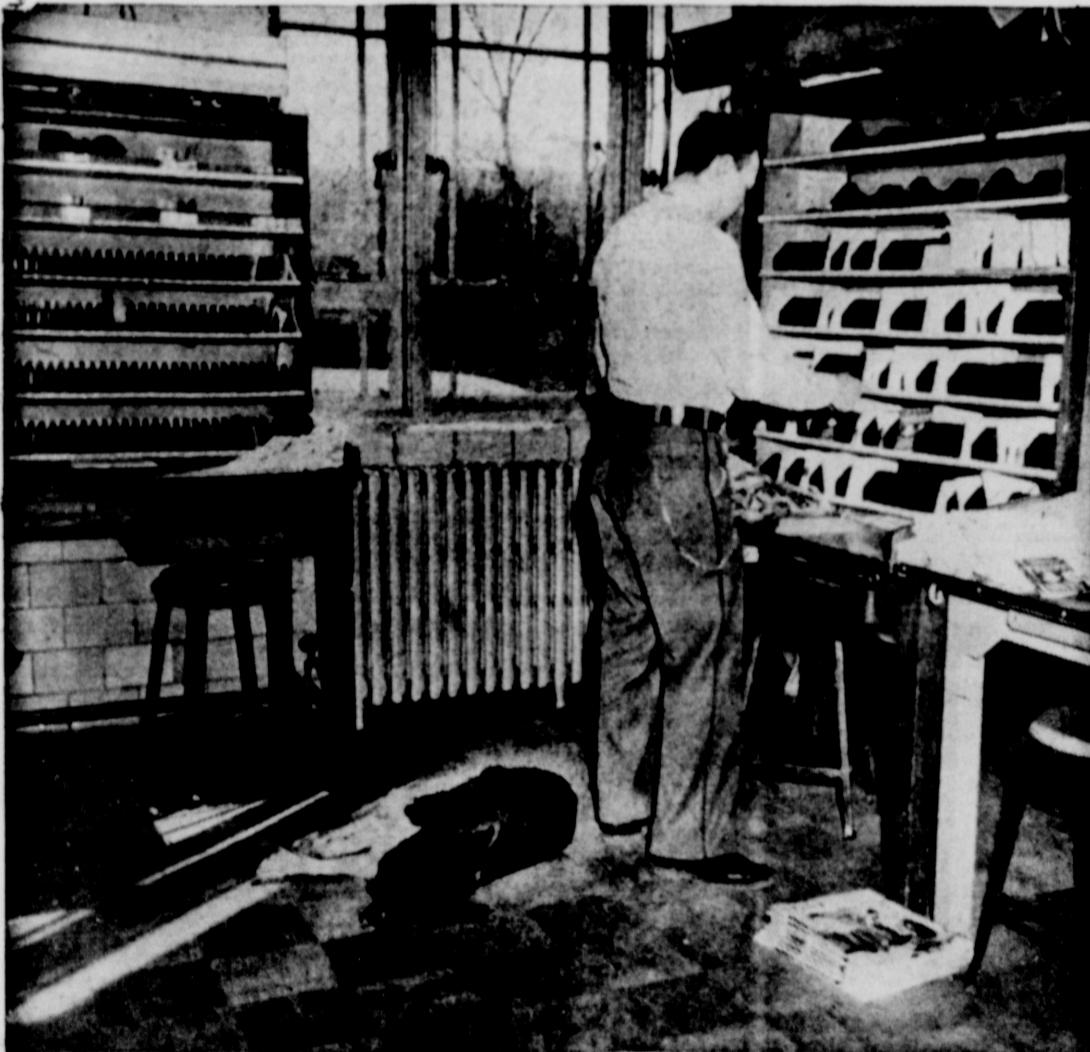

Yes, sir, Jerry leads a dog's life all right, but it's a life that many a person might envy.

This is a far different day for Hall than one two years ago, when a squirrel went mad and attacked the easy going mailman during his tour of duty on Dreher Ave.

CIVIL SERVANT—very civil—is Jerry, the dog who has adopted Edgar Hall, Stroudsburg mailman, and his route as her career. Belonging to the Foster Wilsons and their son, Robert, Jerry spends her days on duty delivering mail. Here she watches carefully as Hall empties the box at the corner of Seventh and Main Sts. She probably doesn't know—or care—that mail boxes are celebrating their 100th anniversary this year.

CATCHING A CATNAP—at noon, Jerry relaxes while Hall sorts the mail. She has many other friends in the postoffice, but is always—

READY TO GO—when the mail is ready. Here a built-in alarm clock has her ready and waiting as the last mail is sorted and it's time for the afternoon round.

Newberry Lists Annual Sales Report

NEW YORK (P) J. Newberry Co. reported earnings equal to $2.75 a share on sales of $212,942,786 during 1957, the annual report released by Edgar A. Newberry, chairman, and John E. Nelson, president, revealed this week.

The 1956 net was $3.18 on sales of $203,463,103. The report shows that higher operating expenses reduced earnings, despite the increase in sales.

The increased expenses included costs of enlarging and relocating old stores and opening new units.

The percentage of gross profits on sales was slightly lower in 1957 due mainly to markdowns on merchandise late in the year, the report said.

Newberry and Nelson attributed the markdowns to efforts to stimulate sales and convert the merchandise into cash in communities where employment and farming incomes declined.

They said part of the decrease in net profits was due to "inadequate sales and net profits" from some of the firm's larger stores.

Newberry spent $4,662,967 on expansion and improvements during the year and ended the year with 476 units the same as 1956, the report showed. During the year, eight new stores were opened, eight unprofitable ones remodeled, 15 others and relocated two stores.

RAYMOND Price Inc., Ford Tractor dealer at Cresco, has just received his first United States-made diesel tractor produced by Ford Motor Co. This tractor will go on display today. The engine for this tractor is a four-cylinder diesel developing 40 belt horsepower and with a 16 to 1 compression ratio.

Fuel savings over conventional gasoline powered engines are 40 to 50 percent. "The new model diesel will round out the Ford line of tractors in all power classes and at prices which will be of interest to every user," says Mr. Price.

CONTROLLING interest of the 101-year-old Stegmaier Brewing Co. has been acquired by J. Fred Maier, 33-year-old Wilkes-Barre and Los Angeles executive and his three sisters through the company's purchase and retirement of minority interest holdings.

Maier and his three sisters, Mary G. Maier, Christine Maier McGarry and Kathleen Maier Jorgensen, are great grandchildren of Charles Stegmaier, who founded the brewing company in 1857.

Stegmaier has attracted wide attention in the industry with announcement of its "Gold and Gold from the Poconos" sales theme for this year. In its sales campaign, the company will employ scenic views of the Poconos and tell the story of its growing popularity as one of America's famed year-round vacationlands and a source of healthful water used in the brewing of Stegmaier products.

GRAND UNION CO.'s sales in the fiscal year ended March 1 advanced 14.4 percent to a record $427,876,672 from the prior 52-week period's total of $374,155,488. President Lansing P. Shields reported.

The upward sales trend was continuing as the fiscal year closed, Shield told The Wall Street Journal. He noted that for the five-week period ended March 1, Grand Union's sales rose 15.9 percent above the comparable period a year ago.

Shield attributed the sales gain to a decentralization achieved during the past 12 months and to continued expansion by the company.

During the recent fiscal year, he said, the company opened 32 new markets, acquired 13 and enlarged and renovated four. Grand Union now operates 381 markets and plans to open 40 more during the current fiscal year. Of these, 31 will be food markets ranging in size from 15,000 to 30,000 square feet, while the nine others will be up to 90,000 square feet.

RONSON CORP., whose cigarette lighter plant is located at Delaware Water Gap, has negotiated a $3,000,000 loan from Prudential Inc. Co. of America. The loan, due March 1, 1973, will bear a five and seven-eights percent coupon.

A sinking fund of $150,000 a year which will begin operations March 1, 1960, is contained in arrangements for the unsecured borrowing. The note is optionally callable at prices ranging from 105 1/2 to par.

Ronson, a Newark-based company, will add proceeds to its general funds.

Street Drive Scheduled To Obtain Names On Pledge Cards For Bloodmobile Visit

AN ALL OUT street drive for signed pledge cards will be made in advance of this month's Bloodmobile visit in Monroe County.

The decision was made at a committee meeting of St. Matthew's Holy Name Society and Father Butler Knights of Columbus Council last night.

A table for this drive will be set up in front of the Wyckoff Department Store tomorrow. The pledge center will be manned by two members of the committee.

Hours for this special drive will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It was pointed out at last night's meeting that signed pledge cards are a factor in setting up and planning a visit of the Bloodmobile. An advance registration figure is needed so that the appropriate units necessary to handle all people who are to give blood can be available on the day of the drive.

For this reason all persons who are interested in donating blood to the Red Cross drive on Tuesday, March 25 should sign a pledge in advance, at least on or before March 13.

If the street drive proves successful on Saturday it is planned to continue it in the early part of the week.

The quota for this monthly drive for whole blood is 125 pints, a spokesman for the committee said however, that an effort will be made to exceed this quota.

The Bloodmobile visit will be at St. Matthew's School Auditorium in East Stroudsburg.

Family Responsibilities, Possessions, Home Self-Concern Secondary For Disciples

"And another also said: Lord, first to follow thee; but let me bid them farewell, which are at home at my house." —Luke IX: 61

By Patrick and Garrison
AMONG those who gathered often to listen to Jesus, there were always some who, moved by His words, wanted then and there to become disciples.

This man was one of them. He had not stopped to consider what discipleship really meant: a total change in one's familiar habits and thinking.

Family responsibilities, possessions, home, self-concern — all these had to become secondary for the man who would follow in the way of the Master.

Jesus demonstrated this in His own life from the first. When He was only 12 and His mother, believing Him lost, finally found Him questioning the learned doctors at the Temple, He told His parents:

"How is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

Years later, during His ministry, as He talked to the people, "his mother and his brethren stand without, desiring to speak with him." But His answer was: "Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?"

Did this mean that earthly relations were of no importance? Not at all. The tenderest and most filial bond existed between the Savior and His mother. Even as He was dying upon the Cross, He thought of her welfare and committed her care to John, the beloved disciple.

What He did mean was that God and the service of God must come first.

"He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me," He had told His own disciples.

But this would-be disciple could not understand this. He had thought that following Jesus could be merely an exciting avocation, like music, art, or philosophy.

It had not occurred to him that, as William Law once observed, "Our kingdom go" is the necessary and unavoidable corollary of "Thy kingdom come."

Pay Raises Made At Depot

COL CLIFFORD POUTRE, commanding officer at Tobyhanna Signal Depot, announced yesterday that the Army Air Force Wage Board has approved pay increases for "blue collar" employees at the Depot.

Affected by the order are 1,459 employees out of a total of 2,255 at the Depot. The average pay increase will be 12 cents per hour.

Last Increase
This is the first pay rate rise blue collar employees have been granted since Nov. 9, 1956 when they were given a 13-cent hourly hike.

The new pay rates go into effect with the first pay period after March 28.

The 799 remaining workers at the Depot are termed "white collar" workers. Their salaries are set by Congress.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Take nice gooey mud two inches deep and still oozing water from THE snow, sprinkle it lightly with new snow, and what have you got? A lot of very disgruntled people, that's what.

A few warm days, a bit of blue sky, and people had started to chirp up to think about Spring wardrobes, washing windows, taking down curtains, living again.

They looked at the first few snowflakes in disbelief, at the slush that the windshield wipers swished around in dismay, and at that white stuff on the lawn when they got home in downright disgust.

We may go in rhapsodies about the last rose of Summer, but nobody ever wrote a poem to the last snow of Winter. Besides, you never can be sure. Remember the year we had ten inches in April?

Well, as snowstorms go this one doesn't seem to be amounting to much, but it was enough to take off the fine edge of delight in the coming Spring, to dull the sense of anticipation that was growing up despite the experiences of other Marches.

We might as well settle down to the fact that Spring seldom arrives by the calendar in Monroe County. We might as well sew the buttons back on that bedraggled winter coat we were going to put away, hang the Spring curtains in the back of the closet, and resign ourselves to the fact that we haven't seen the last of Winter yet.

20 Boys Go A-Begging For Homes

Apparently there is no shortage of boys in the Stroudsburgs. The committee in charge of placing the high school bandmen who will be coming here for the Band Festival in April have 20 boys left over, who still need homes.

The committee, which met last night at the home of housing chairman, Mrs. Arthur Ifft, of the Stroudsburg Music Boosters, reported that they had no trouble locating the girls in local homes for the three nights, but they still needed room for boys.

The committee has spent busy weeks on the telephone and have placed 145 of the young musicians, many of them in the homes of local band members. One of the reasons for the leftover boys is that such a large percentage of students selected for the festival are boys.

The homes will provide sleeping accommodations for three nights, and breakfasts on the days they are here. The concert is on Saturday night. While boys may need an extra egg for breakfast, they don't need as much room or time for dressing, the committee pointed out in trying to farm out their extra boys.

Anyone with room who would like to have a temporary boy during the festival, April 17, 18 and 19, may call any member of the committee: Mrs. Ifft, 527-J; Mrs. William Roeder, 4297; Mrs. Ed Steinhower, 1340-J or Mrs. Robert Schell, 3842. Deadline for definite housing is March 25.

Press Aux. Banquet Set For March 22

Final plans for the annual banquet of the Ladies Aux. to the Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union were made at their meeting on Tuesday night. The banquet will be held March 22 at 6:30 p.m. at Linden Court. Reservations must be made by Monday, March 17, with Marion Bensley or Elsie Rogers.

Mrs. Evelyn Slutter presided at their meeting when plans were also made for an Easter egg hunt to be given for the children of members on April 5 at 2:30 at the CLU Club.

New members welcomed were Jean Burd, Ida Mae Shook and Shirley Shoop.

Refreshments were served by Helen Hollis, Katie Hollis and Marion Bensley.

Difficult Women

"Everything seems to be going well with us except for the fact that, in our particular community, there are some idle rich women who are extremely hard to get along with. The bulk of our customers, fortunately, are pleasant and nice, but this handful of tough ones is driving us crazy."

"I think that we should put up with them anyway, because we are new and need every customer we can get. But my husband says they are not worth the trouble because they take so much of our time and energy."

"What do you think?"

Drive Others Away

I have always felt that the old idea that the customer is always right was a mistake. My experience has been that the really unpleasant, noisy and irate customer tends to drive away the pleasant ones.

Most of us have had the experience of walking out of a shop sooner than stay and hear one of those monsters howling at the owner. I have given up beauty shops more than once simply because they tolerated the kind of shrill, nasty customer who destroyed the peace for all of the others.

Scrutinize The Case

I have talked to friends in the field who pretty generally agree that it pays to scrutinize such cases very carefully and not automatically put up with them.

First of all, many times customers of this kind waste the time of employees and owners to such an extent that there is very little profit in any transactions they may eventually make.

Second, many times such people return as much merchandise

Educators Hear About Ewha U.

Miss Okaili Kim, assistant professor and assistant dean at Ewha Women's University, Seoul, Korea, was the featured speaker at the Spring luncheon of Phi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society. Miss Kim is in the United States through a fellowship granted to her by the Pennsylvania chapters of the organization composed of outstanding women educators.

The educational system in Korea was the theme of her talk, especially as it pertains to women. Until recently, she said, women in Korea were "kept behind the door". Education was for boys and men only.

Today she said there is a tremendous interest in education for all. Children are eager to learn and love to go to school. Ewha University is the first open to women students in Korea and for the semester which begins in April they have an application list of 3000 women, with admissions limited to 1500. Standards are high and eagerness for learning is tremendous she said.

Miss Kim is furthering her studies at Temple University, Stevens St., Stroudsburg, celebrated her 11th birthday with a party at her home. Dancing in the basement was followed by refreshments featuring a four-tier birthday cake.

Local members attending were Miss Frances Hankins and Mrs. Pauline Borden, of Pike County; Miss Cora Lange, Miss Catherine Kusmack and Mrs. Margaret Jessup of Wayne County; And from Monroe: Miss Janet Bender, Miss Eloise Bryan, Mrs. Mildred Cyphers, Mrs. Dagnay DeNile, Miss Mary Hall, Miss Katherine McFarland, Miss Catherine Reinhard, Mrs. Roberta Roan, Mrs. Elizabeth Schalch, Mrs. Lydia Strait, Mrs. Grace Thompson, Mrs. Lillian Wagner, Miss Catherine Wolverton, and Miss Genevieve Zimbar.

It was decided to give $5 to a fund for the purchase of a bus for Sunday School work in Maine and $15 for the Love Offering for the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky.

Mrs. Stephen Borden and Mrs. Paul Walters were elected as delegates to the Missionary Convention to be held June 4-6 at Reading. The next meeting will be at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Harold L. Ulmer at Ackermanville.

Adventists To Feature Services

"PICTURES and Poetry," designed to help youth see Christ in his created works, will be given tonight at the Sabbath M. V. service of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, according to Mrs. Gerard Freeman, youth leader.

The service will begin with group singing at 7:45 p.m., led by Tom Foulke Jr., and will include a series of color slides taken by Mr. Thomas Miller, former member of the United States Medical Corps 227th Station Hospital.

Miller, who has traveled extensively in the U. S., Canada, Alaska, Philippines and South Pacific, said some of the most beautiful scenes of God's creation can be found right here in Monroe County.

Mrs. Freeman, Missionary Volunteer leader, states tonight's service will feature appropriate music and poetry for the colored scenes of trees, flowers, water and clouds. The leader added that much of the poetry of the Holy Scriptures has been inspired by beholding God's creation.

The offering will again be dedicated to the young people's community service project, "Operation Desire."

Community Services

Elmer W. R. Bernstein's sermon will be titled, "The Loneliness of Christ" for tomorrow's 9:15 a.m. communion service.

The ordinance of humility (feet washing), a quarterly observance, will follow the sermon after which the breaking of unleavened bread and drinking the juice of the vine will take place.

The Adventist communion is open to all Christians.

MRS. CLARENCE Halterman attended the funeral of her uncle, John Peters, in Peckville.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muth were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Halterman Monday night. The occasion was in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Halterman and Mr. Muth, both being that day.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Donald Rowe and Mrs. Lucy Metzgar were Mr. and Mrs. Rowe of Reeder's, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Metzgar of Easton, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sebring and daughter, Susan.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Cora Keeler were her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Anthony and daughters Carol and Doris of Schenckville and Miss Lillian Blose and Harry Horn of Greenawald.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Vliet entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of Snyderville and Mr. and Mrs. Andrews' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Detrick of Haworth, N. J.

Miss Dorothy Heller of East Stroudsburg was an overnight guest of Miss Gwendolyn Cramer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Cramer. Miss Jeanette Cramer, a senior of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, spent the weekend there. Miss Cramer is now engaged in student practice teaching at the Clearview school.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bush entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stettler of Tannersville and Mr. and Mrs. George Lesoine of Brushy Mountain.

East Stroudsburg Seniors Win National Merit Praise

TWO SENIORS at East Stroudsburg Area Joint Senior High School have won praise by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for their outstanding performances on a nationwide college aptitude test.

According to principal Ralph O. Burrows, the seniors so honored are:

Dorothy May, daughter of Dr. Jonas T. May, Star Route, East Stroudsburg and L. Douglas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Smith, 204 Smith St., East Stroudsburg.

Recommendation

The East Stroudsburg students were Pennsylvania runners-up in the 1957-58 Merit Scholarship Competition. Each will be sent a letter of recommendation by the scholarship corporation for use in applying to colleges.

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, believes that the 7,500 students who received the commendation rank in the top one or two per cent in ability in the senior classes of their respective states.

"While the students receiving this commendation did not quite reach the finals of the 1957-58 competition, each of them has ability and outstanding promise to benefit from college training," Stalnaker said.

One East Stroudsburg Area School student is a finalist in the Merit competition. She is Ellen Mazer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Mazer.

Three Cars In Accident

NO ONE was injured in a chain-reaction, three-car accident on the Seventh St. Bridge at 4:50 p.m. yesterday.

Borough police said cars driven by Joseph Stulgis, 1064 Medina Ave., Scranton, and Richard G. Gilbert, 296 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, had stopped for the Ann St. traffic light when a car driven by Timothy McIntyre, 715 Palm St., Scranton, struck the rear of Gilbert's car, sending it into Stulgis' vehicle.

Damages was estimated at $75 to Stulgis' car and $50 to Gilbert's vehicle. McIntyre's car was not damaged.

Engineers To Meet Tonight

H. W. LEAS, manager of the Easton Division of the Lehigh Valley Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and associated with Metropolitan Edison, Co., has announced that a joint meeting with the Lehigh Valley Section of the Institute of Radio Engineers would be held today at the Forks Township Volunteer Fire Co.

The meeting will start with a dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by a business meeting at 8 p.m.

Councilmen Confer On Thruway Plan

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Harold Crossdale and Guyton Kempster were in Harrisburg this week representing the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce at a conference with highway officials.

They submitted an alternate proposal for the Thruway as they desire it to be routed through the borough.

Objections Some objections had been raised to plans to send the road along the Walnut Lane real estate development.

The chamber also turned down an offer to act as co-sponsor with the fire company in a carnival this Summer. The chamber felt it is too late to make proper arrangements this year, but requested that the offer be held open until 1959.

Allentown Five Gold Medal Winners

JACK'S MARKET and Allen's Electric of Allentown moved into the quarter-finals of the senior division, and Steve's Coffee Shoppe shot into the semi-finals in junior competition in YMCA Gold Medal Basketball Tournament last night.

Jack's Market, paced by Tony Salerno's 22, Dunbar's 21 and C. Daniel's 20, routed Red Top Tavern, 102-54, while Allen's Electric, despite a 41-point effort by Jim Kindrew, eliminated Ritter's Sporting Goods, 81-70.

Dale Metzgar's 23 and Ted Williams' 23 jettisoned Steve's Coffee Shoppe high in the junior division via a 72-58 win over Ike's Variety Shoppe of Bangor.

Monday's Tilt

Jack's will meet Allentown, Allen's Electric Monday while Twin City TV takes on Gray's Chevrolet in the other half of an all-senior doubleheader.

In vanquishing Ike's Variety, high—41—by Kindrew, Steve's took an early lead and never let up the rest of the way. Frankie Butz was high for the losers with 14.

Jack's built up a 30-13 edge over Red Top Tavern before running over the 100-point mark. Eric Neal topped the Tavern with 19.

Led by Dick Greb's 23, and Dick Schaffer's 20, Allen's Electric overcame the tournament

200 At Monroe Schoolboy Loop Fete At West End

BRODHEADSVILLE—Pocono Twp. High's varsity and junior varsity basketball teams were cited at the annual banquet of the Monroe Scholastic League at the West End Firehouse here last night.

More than 200 athletes, teachers and guests viewed the presentation of the 1957-58 trophies to Pocono Twp. court champions of the circuit the past season.

Bob Clark, sports editor of The Daily Record presented the newspaper's award to Ron Martine, captain of the varsity five; and Joe Murray, coach of Barrett, in behalf of Harold Kreek, owner of Pocono Sports Goods, gave the junior varsity trophy to Phil Vishnesky, captain of the Poconos JV's.

John Eiler, head soccer coach and assistant dean of men at East Stroudsburg Teachers College, was the principal speaker. He noted the "three A's in sports"—Ambition, Attitude and Academic.

The EESTC mentor pointed out that "desire within makes a champion out of ordinary athlete." He urged the boys to go all out in their endeavor on the sports field. "This," he said, "will pay off later in life."

Murray Toastmaster

Murray, president of the MSI, was master of ceremonies and introduced the following coaches and principals:

Carl Secor, supervising principal of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School District, gave the invocation and benediction.

Jayvee and varsity basketball and baseball players, cheerleaders were guests of the league at the annual event.

S-burg AA Okays Letters

STROUDSBURG High's athletic association approved the awarding of seven varsity and 10 junior varsity letters in basketball at a meeting at the school list night.

The AA also adopted the 1958 baseball and football schedules, and okayed a basketball inventory. Bill's totaling $250, were ordered paid.

It was announced that the Mountaineers nine will meet Eastern High in an exhibition game at home, April 18.

Jockey Bill Hartack won 35 races in 101 chances during the month of October, 1957. He won 59 races in July while accepting 159 mounts.

Forty-nine Jockeys won races at the 1957 Monmouth Park meeting at Oceanport, N. J.

Stroudsburg LL Selects '58 Managers

STROUDSBURG Little League voted to purchase new equipment, excluding uniforms and reusable paraphernalia, at a meeting at the Stroudsburg YMCA last night.

The league, with President Jack Mullins in charge, named managers for five teams and assistants for four entries. The pilots and teams are Herbert Haney, manager, First Stroudsburg National Bank; Harold Sisco, manager, and Jack Phillips, assistant, Stroudsburg Security Trust; Ray Davies, manager, and Glenn Bising, assistant, Veteran of Foreign Wars; Donald Gilpin, manager, and Arch Rundle, assistant, Penn-Stout Hotel; and Russell Bush, manager, and Pete Kemmerer, assistant, Wyckoff-Sears. No manager or aide was named for the Stout Glass team, the circuit's sixth entry.

The league set April 12 and 19th (Saturday mornings) as the registration date for players. The registration will take place from 10 to 12 a.m. at the Stroudsburg YMCA.

Plan Inspection

A committee, headed by Ray Weiss, was named to inspect Little League Park and report on any needed improvement or renovations.

At Charlotte, N.C. Temple, with a 23-game winning streak which is the longest among major basketball teams, goes against Maryland, the giant-killer which won the Atlantic Coast Conference crown.

Temple was No. 5 in the AP poll, Maryland No. 6.

North Carolina won the NCAA crown last year in a triple overtime final against Kansas. Neither North Carolina nor Kansas qualified for the 1958 event.

The two feature games promise interesting individual performances. Temple, an iron man squad which has seen five players carry the brunt of the load all season, is led by All-American Guy Rodgers.

Maryland has a deep, well-balanced squad with Nick Davis the ace scorer.

The Cincinnati-Kansas State battle may develop into an individual duel between Oscar Robertson, the nation's leading scorer from Cincinnati, and the talented Bob Boozer of Kansas State.

Seattle, with All-American Elgin Baylor scoring 26 points, beat Wyoming's Skyline Conference champions 88-51 to qualify for a regional spot. Idaho State's Rocky Mountain champions won over Arizona State of Tempe, 72-68.

Finals in the Regional Tournament will be held Saturday night, with winners qualifying for the semifinals and finals scheduled at Louisville, March 21-22.

Pocono Archers Work Saturday

POCONO

Archery Association will hold a work meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. to work on its new building off Route 209 outside Stroudsburg.

All members are urged to come if possible, officials said last night.

Last week Celler disclosed the contents of a letter from Lewis whereby the players' attorney said it was the "collective view" of the players that elimination of the "reasonably necessary" clause could be "most detrimental to the interest and welfare of the players."

The players' endorsement came at their last regular meeting held in Key West, Fla., last Feb. 8. The next regular meeting would be held in Baltimore during the All-Star game interval in July.

FLOYD M. SMITH of Smith Gap, who recently underwent an operation at Palmerston Hospital, returned home Friday.

Mrs. Gordon Nicholas entertained the Jolly Jane Card Club Thursday night. Prize winners were Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Wallace Zieggenfus, Mrs. Herman Barlieb and Mrs. Harvey Smale.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kunkletown Volunteer Fire Co. held their monthly meeting in the Community Hall Monday night. Plans were formulated for a penny supper to be held in the Community Hall on June 14. The ladies also scheduled a benefit for July 19 and set a rain date for July 20. At the same time they announced they will hold a card party in the Community Hall this Saturday to which the public is invited.

Fireplace
Is Attention
Getter!

ALTHOUGH the ledge rock fireplace and planting box are striking features in the exterior design of today's plan, the interior floor plan will arouse your interest even more for its many comfort planned qualities. Novel placement of fireplace at front entry leaves large areas for your larger furniture pieces. Floor to ceiling ledge rock wall has fireplace set flush, with 3 projecting stone tier shelves for effective decorator look. Open shelf book built-in with enclosed storage space below faces living room and serves as dividing wall between living and dining room. China built-in in dining room is another space utilizer. Square kitchen has attractive table space near built-in china cabinet—simplifies setting out the breakfast dishes—they're practically at your fingertips. Your work area is well-planned and kitchen has access to rear terrace. Center hall has access to kitchen, basement stairs, sleeping quarters, linen closet, bath and entry hall—serving as a direct and step saving traffic channel. Notice the bedroom dimensions—master bedroom has front location, excellent window treatment, large wardrobe closet and will permit a variety of furniture arrangements. Rear bedroom is a large, square room, well ventilated, with ample closet and wall space. Large full bath has built-in vanity and separate linen closet. Attached garage located in the basement. Exterior has work bench beneath window construction is brick veneer. Use and access to rear terrace for easy handy coupon on page 2 for further storage of garden equipment. Laundry information.

Lu-Re-Co PANELS

- Efficiency In Erection
- Modular Planning—Low Costs
- Savings By Pre-Assembling

For Any Building Material, and Construction Use Our Easy and Convenient Payment Plan.

There's no end to variety of designs with Lu-Re-Co panels. Solid wall panels, as well as panels with squarely framed window and door openings are trucked to the construction site in good weather from R. C. Cramer Lumber Co. There's no measuring, no cutting, no mistakes and by sundown, two men have the walls of your Lu-Re-Co home in place.

The exterior walls are pre-assembled in 4 foot by 8 ft. panels under ideal conditions at Cramer's. Accurately cut lumber and sheathing material are nailed together without lost motion and the minimum of waste . . . all this a savings for you. Lu-Re-Co built homes qualify for FHA and V.A. loans and meet the building codes in all communities because standard, full size materials are used in Lu-Re-Co construction. For more detailed information see or call R. C. Cramer Co. today.

LOTS OF OPEN

Living space is featured in this contemporary house with long, low lines. Take a look at the floor plan with its combined living room, dining area and study. The kitchen too, is part of this general living area, being set apart by a snack bar. The fireplace wall is done entirely in brick and features a woodbox. A china closet separates the entry from the living area. There is a closet for guest wraps at the door.

Ceiling-hung draw drapes can be used to close off the study, or it can be partitioned off to make a third bedroom since there is a wardrobe closet. When entertaining, the study enlarges the living area. A door from the study leads to the large rear terrace.

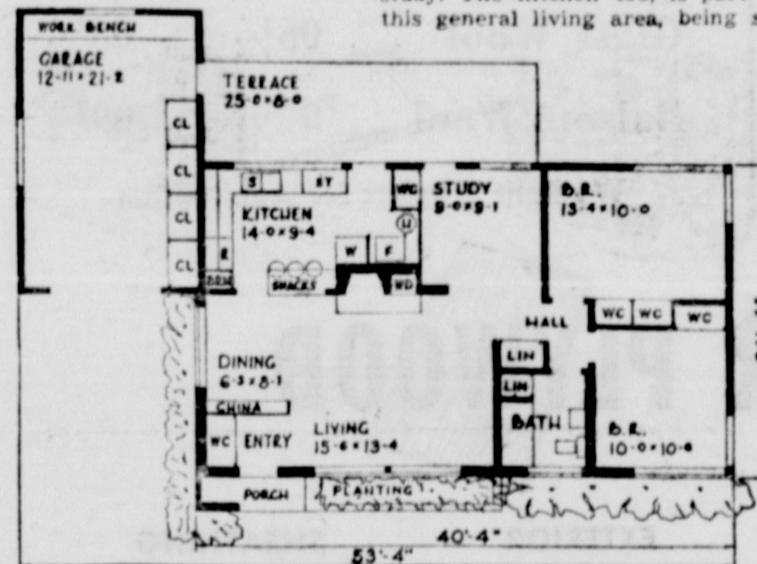

The kitchen is combined with a utility room since there is no basement. The furnace and laundry equipment are off to one side, with an outside door handy for taking clothes outdoors.

Both bedrooms have corner windows placed high to facilitate furniture arrangement. The master bedroom is in the rear and has twin wardrobe closets.

There are two linen closets, one in the bathroom and the other just outside in the hall. The garage is large enough for a wall of four closets beside the car and a work bench at the end. The garage is well set back from the front of the house, making possible a large dining room window and providing a sheltering wall for the terrace.

The house is designed to be built on a 65-foot-wide lot. The flat roof provides a wide overhang to shade the front porch and the windows. The house has a content of 11,280 cubic feet with 960 square feet.

Use handy coupon on page 2 of this section for further information and details on this home.

How Big Can A Small House Be?

JUDGING from this plan it can be very big where living comfort is concerned. The floor plan and low square footage is ideally suited to the homemaker that wants minimum housework and yet room enough for informal entertaining and living, plus enough storage room! Sounds like the answer to the working wife's prayer or the retired couples' dream, doesn't it? Living area has unobstructed wall space and attractive window while the dining portion is separated from entrance by a large built-in china cabinet. Guest closet is near front door. Kitchen is compact with plenty of work area and eating space. Two steps lead down from kitchen to grade door and an extra clothes closet—this will be greatly appreciated during rainy or slushy weather—muddy boots and wet gear can be easily stowed away without cluttering up wardrobe and guest closets. A nice bath with linen closet adjacent plus two bedrooms having cross ventilation, ample wardrobe space and large wall areas for good furniture placement complete the "work-easy" layout of this unusually livable home. Basement provides laundry facilities plus room for future recreation room. Of frame construction, measuring only 32' x 24', simple in design, this modest ranch home is within the means of the most modest budget.

The Story Of A Home- Simply Told!

TODAY'S design is one of those plans that incorporates "big" home floor planning within a modest price range. Separate vestibule provides privacy—with the guest wrap closet being located at the end of the entry hall. The huge living-dining room "L" is accessible from entry hall yet conveniently separated from sleeping quarters. Note the proportions of this living portion of the home. No question here of BIG home spaciousness! Attractive front bay windows, large fireplace and large picture window in dining room plus china built-in at each side of door leading to terrace and kitchen access make this an ideal relaxation center. Kitchen has "U" type work center and table space. There's a handy storage cabinet in hall near kitchen. Central hall provides excellent traffic circulation to the large three bedroom sleeping wing, the full bath and rear hall from which lavatory, basement stairs and rear door are accessible. Among the "plus" features are the following: Lavatory also has built-in vanity and linen closet, also access to master bedroom. Location of lavatory is also convenient to kitchen and rear entrance. Dad as well as children can come in from the yard and clean up promptly without tracking through the house. Lavatory also contains a built-in hamper for those solid cast-offs—a real work saver idea. Notice window in rear hall area exit—no dark corners here! Bedrooms are large, well ventilated and contain ample wall areas for easy furniture placement. Laundry, heating as well as additional storage facilities are located in the basement. An easy to live in house featuring frame construction with large planting box beneath brick veneer bay—this home offers a lot for your money!

Striking Tri-Level

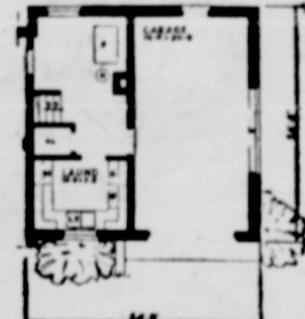

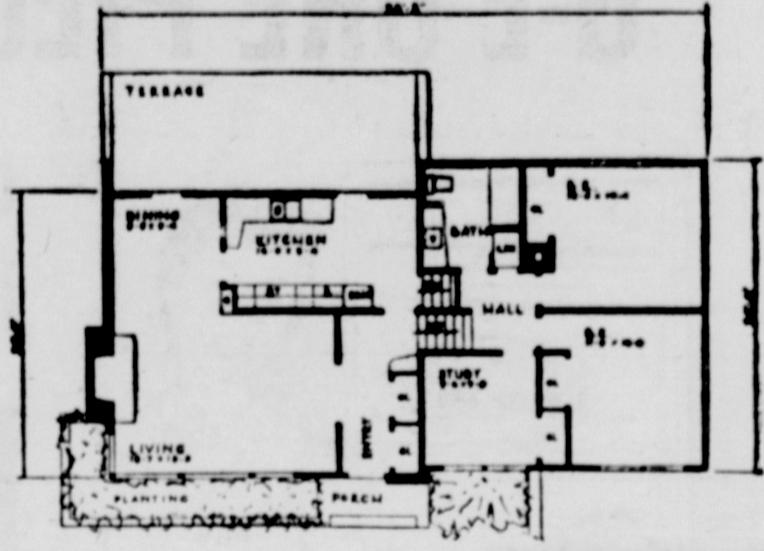

THIS LOVELY tri-level home highlights efficient, easy traffic circulation because of its three divisions of living, sleeping and service levels. The first level, approximately 577 square feet, includes a separate room for laundry facilities and a large closet for storage. Furnace and hot water heater are tucked away to the rear. The garage is opposite. Five steps up from the first level is the living, dining, kitchen and terrace. As you enter this level from the covered front porch, there is a separate vestibule with large guest closet and telephone niche. The spacious living room includes a wide picture window extending around the corner of the house to chimney. The massive fireplace is placed to serve both dining and living rooms. A "pass-through" from the kitchen to dining area is a server and handy bar saving the housewife extra steps. Up seven steps to the third level, you find two bedrooms, a study and bath. There are good sized closets throughout and a vanity counter in the bath.

Privacy for all major areas of this home, plus convenience are the main features of this striking tri-level home. Divided into work, living and sleeping areas, the three levels are planned for easy traffic circulation. A garage, laundry room and heating space occupy the lower level. The main level of the home has a separate entry, huge living-dining "L" with fireplace, terrace access and a model kitchen. The terrace is also approached from the kitchen for easy food service when dining outdoors during warm summer months. Along with ample storage area, the kitchen has table space. Notice the convenient location of stairs to lower and upper levels and the handy telephone niche. The third level sleeping wing consists of two bedrooms and a study which can be used as a third bedroom as it contains a large wardrobe closet. Full bath contains a vanity unit. Linen closet in bath has hall access. Many custom extras are included in this home. Exterior construction features brick veneer for lower level and vertical board siding for sleeping wing.

THIS ECONOMICAL design is large, one being 11' x 11'. Each bedroom has double wardrobe closets and cross ventilation.

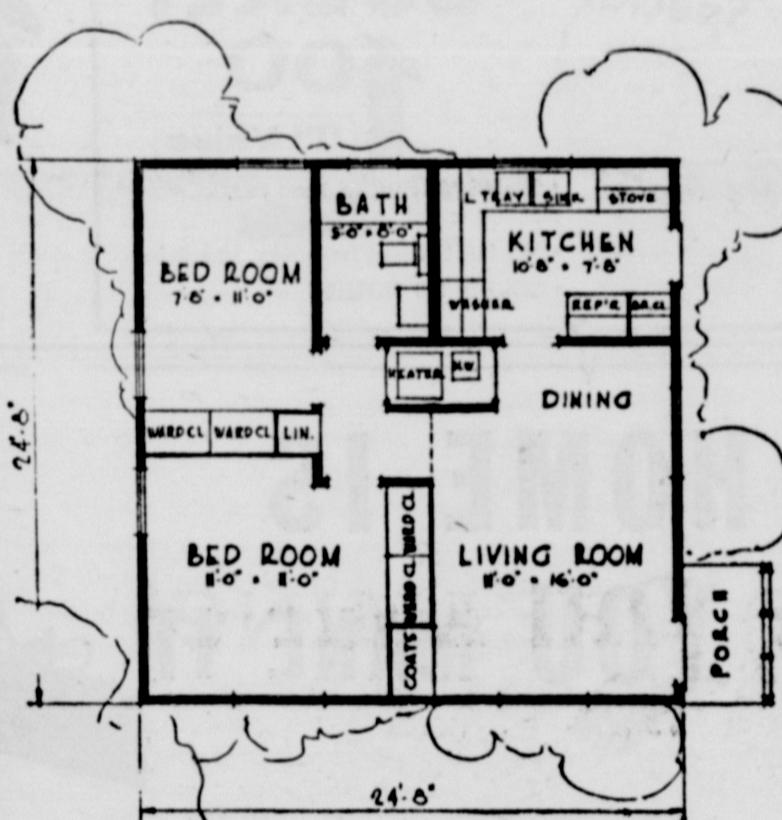

The bath is within easy reach from all rooms. A small nook is planned just outside bath for furnace and hot water heater.

To eliminate a basement, the kitchen is combined with laundry. Notice that there is plenty of space to walk around in and that there will be no problem of counter space. The kitchen is also convenient to the dining area for meal serving.

Living room is quite large when combined with dining area and well lighted by front windows. There is a closet for guest wraps and notice that instead of a front entrance, it is located at the side. This is made especially attractive by trellises and planting boxes.

The elimination of a fireplace and wood siding for construction material also make this small home economical to build.

Pathway To Good Living!

AN EASY to care for home in every respect—this ranch style has much to recommend it. Built-in bookshelves near the front entrance create a small vestibule with a long, unobstructed wall, offering many decorator effects. A built-in china cabinet divides the kitchen from dining-living area. Fireplace is placed back-to-back with utility room, thus fireplace, heating unit, incinerator, hot water tank are all located at one point—a money saving arrangement. Picture windows face the street and a smaller double window near the fireplace gives extra light. The guest closet is in the central hall. The large, square kitchen has lots of counter and storage space, the built-in china cabinet opens into the kitchen. There's also table space, the housewife's most necessary and most frequently asked for requirement—if our surveys are correct! A door leads to utility room with laundry equipment placed along the outside wall.

The bedrooms are of better than average size, with large closets, cross ventilation, and plenty of wall space for twin beds in each bedroom. The extra size bathroom contains a built-in vanity and large linen closet.

Outside construction is of brick with vertical siding for pleasant contrast. Custom detailing is evident in the window and door treatment. Rear of the house has a large planting box at one corner to relieve severity of design. Not too radical in styling, this home will always remain a sound investment for its owner.

THIS FIVE room house is just right for the modest family. Every inch of space is utilized to give you dollar for dollar building value.

Just study the floor plan and see how well rooms are divided, planned to provide easy traffic circulation. The covered porch protects entry where a guest closet is placed just inside the front door. There is a top-to-bottom picture window that will brighten the entire living area. Because this plan does not call for a living room fireplace, you will have extra space for furniture arrangements and less building expenses.

The kitchen allows table space and is also convenient to the living room in case you plan a large family dinner for special holidays.

The sink is placed under a window and there is plenty of storage and counter space here. A side door is just off the kitchen and also leads to basement stairs.

Bath is within easy reach from all rooms because this is such a compact plan and there is linen cabinets inside bath and an all-purpose closet just outside. Both bedrooms are placed to the rear of the home for privacy and each features cross ventilation with ample wardrobe space.

A 40-foot lot is ideal for this cozy home which could well be a retirement home if your children are grown and married. It is also a fine start for the newly married couple. Another economical aspect is noted in exterior construction material of horizontal wood siding. Outside trellis and planting box add color. Use handy coupon on page 2 for further information.

About This Narrow Lot Home!

THE FRONT porch provides protection for entrance into projecting vestibule with guest closet—a feature that doesn't use up valuable floor area in the house proper. Notice the extensive wall area in the well-proportioned living room plus the corner placement of picture windows which permits various furniture arrangements. Folding door between living room and dining room is a very popular idea as it serves a dual purpose—you may separate or tie-in these rooms depending on circumstances. Dining room has plenty of light—while high placement of side windows leaves valuable wall space for your furniture. The kitchen is a square, well arranged food preparation center with access to hall leading to other parts of the house and door leading to service entrance and basement stairs. Sleeping area will accommodate all of your furniture and wardrobe space requirements with ample light and ventilation in each room. Bath has convenient central location. Linen closet and extra clothes closet are in hall. Full basement has heating and laundry facilities as well as providing additional storage space. Brick veneer exterior has vertical siding trim contrast.

Priced!

A 2 STORY contemporary for the narrow lot—this home measures just under an unbelievable 450 sq. ft.! Without sacrificing comfort or appearance either! Designed in the new fashion—the smart exterior has simple lines with a pleasing contrast in the construction materials. Front entry contains guest closet and stairs to upper floor sleeping quarters. The interior view centers attention on fireplace flanked by sliding windows and french doors to terrace. Built in for books and china plus sliding door to kitchen make this a comfortable room in all respects. Kitchen has convenient storage cabinets, table area, door to terrace, and door to basement stairs and garage. In the garage the side exit is also convenient to the kitchen for easy traffic circulation. Upper floor has luxury size master bedroom featuring three large windows so positioned as to permit easy furniture arrangement. Window seat beneath rear window on this home.

provides a handy bit of storage space. Good size 2nd bedroom also has cross ventilation and ample closet space. Full bath has separate towel cabinet. Linen closet and clothes chute are located in the hall. Large cedar closet in the hall will provide double protection for stored clothing. Laundry and heating facilities are located in the basement. A very economical structure to build—it should receive serious consideration from the budget minded buyer. Recommended construction materials are brick and batten board siding for a trim, up to date look.

Stony Exterior—
Heartwarming Interior!

FOR CASUAL living, entertaining and all round practicality this home design offers a tremendous value! A style that is timeless and adaptable to changing trends — this home is a sound investment in good living. If you like room for everything and everything in its place, but you do not want a basement—study this plan carefully — it may be your dream home!

From the moment you enter the "front-to-back" living room with its convenient guest closet and doorway to hall leading to the bedrooms, you are aware of the excellent room arrangement.

Living room has center fireplace, built-in bookshelves and French doors leading to outdoor terrace. Dining room has two built-in china cabinets and wall space for additional furniture. The kitchen boasts of three windows placed to best advantage: over sink and providing cross ventilation in eating area. Counter space is plentiful. This room will be bright all winter and cool all summer. A separate lavatory near laundry is a real step-saver. Incidentally, the front entrance to laundry makes it very handy to the kitchen area as well. Bedrooms are located at one side of the house for maximum privacy. You will notice especially the excellent wall space provided in each of the three bedrooms. Closets are roomy. The bathroom is large with built-in vanity and linen closet. Because this model has no basement storage space has been well planned and amply provided, for instance: Storage space in laundry room; closet near kitchen; linen closet in hall near bedrooms; large storage room in hall near heating area; storage for garden tools off terrace; plus your built-ins and guest closet! Exterior construction is of split field stone, brick and wood trim—ideal for the would-be country gentlemen! Use handy coupon on page 2 for further information.

new CARRIER

Weathermaker fits in 3'x3'

Today, there's no need to dream about air conditioning! If you want it, you can have it! And the price is right! Carrier Weathermakers* are now so reasonably priced that they are being installed in homes costing as little as $10000!

And you get your money back in many, many ways! You save on cleaning and redecorating expense. You keep the money you used to spend on trips and excursions to escape the heat. All you give up are sleepless summer nights, sodden days, blasting fans, lackadaisical meals, and all the dust and noise that formerly drifted through your windows.

Why not let us make a survey of your home? You'll be under no obligation.

Horizontal Lines Stressed

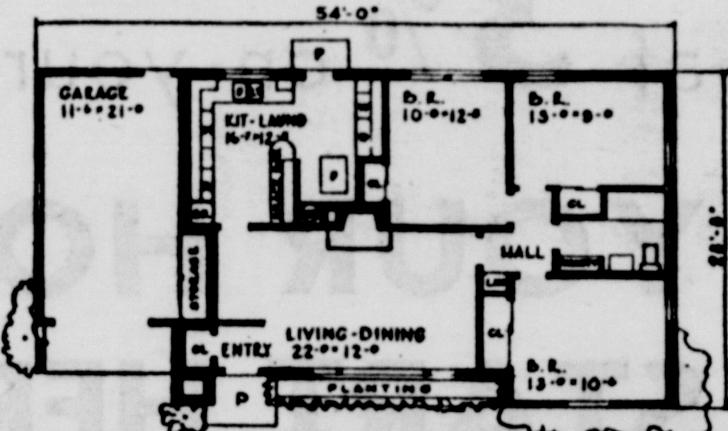

THE EXTERIOR of this modest ranch home plays up the use of horizontal lines to achieve a low, wide sweeping appearance that is very charming and homelike. Lateral, multi-pane windows throughout the home add further to this general effect. A measure of privacy is afforded the dining area by the glass block partition near the front entry. This partition is only a half wall, measuring six courses high. Unbroken wall lengths, natural fireplace and lovely view window gives you a fine, rectangular shaped living center that will permit variety in furniture arrangement. The kitchen has excel-

DESIGN H-247

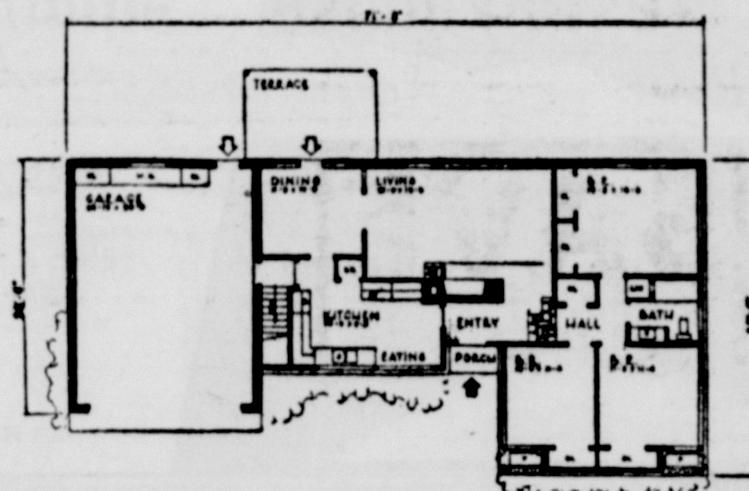

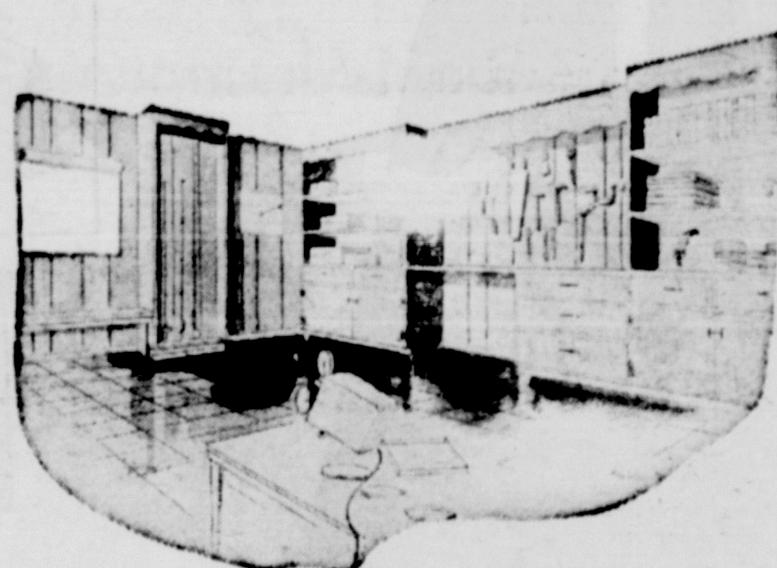

House 1,448 Sq. Ft.

Garage 597 Sq. Ft.

TODAY'S HOME design combines various construction materials for an interesting and streamlined exterior appearance. Flagstoned foyer separates the different areas of the house giving the desired privacy to each and yet offering free traffic circulation for maximum convenience. Opposite the panoramic picture window with valance lighting, overlooking rear garden, is a custom designed ledge rock fireplace with a floor to ceiling V cut paneled wall at the right for a dramatic decorator touch. Unobstructed wall areas make possible many furniture arrangements.

Partition between living and dining room is set with panels of Louvre glass—these are some of the features which make this area excitingly different — a source of pride to the owner! Kitchen has top favor location with extensive glass area over sink and breakfast nook. Notable is the easy access to foyer, dining room, basement stairs and garage from the work easy kitchen. Bedrooms have unusual layout: Notice how both front bedrooms form a projection which lends variety to exterior lines of the home, while the closet areas "square off" the room dimensions. Corner windows have attractive planters below which serve as a protective screen when foliage is in bloom. Master bedroom has rear location with an entire 12' wall devoted to twin wardrobe closets! Bath with vanity is so located as to be convenient to all parts of the house. Hall has extra clothes closet and linen closet. Double garage is attached and features a self-closing firedoor, built-in storage cabinets, work bench and rear exit to yard. Heating and laundry facilities will be located in the full basement.

IT ISN'T often we can get BOTH—in a reasonably priced ranch home! The protected front entrance has vestibule and guest closet. A door from the vestibule leads into the study which can easily serve as a third bedroom because it has its own large closet. All of the bedrooms, the dining room and bath are accessible from the central hall, providing excellent traffic circulation. Both bedrooms feature large corner windows which means lots of wall space for convenient furniture placement. The bath is exceptionally large with linen closet that opens into hall and bathroom for extra convenience. Dining room has French doors leading to terrace. The dining room floor plan utilizes hall space, thereby increasing normal area considerably. The kitchen has been planned for efficiency. Three large windows make this a bright, cheerful room, with eating area ideally placed near the large corner windows. Door from kitchen leads to service entrance and basement stairs. The placement of the picture windows in the large living room, plus the small window near the fireplace provides ample light and creates additional wall space for livable furniture arrangement. The attractive, contemporary custom appearance is achieved in exterior construction through the use of stone, vertical siding and unusually long planting box, which extends from front entrance across front of the house and around corner to fireplace chimney.
